Louis Shade, Edward Shade, Brothers, and James Deppert, in Custody of Authorities.

FIRE AT THE NAYROCKER FARM

Barn is Totally Destroyed and Five Horses Are Burned to Death—Farming Implements Lost.

Louis Shade, thirty-four, Edward Shade, twenty-two, his brother, and James Deppert, twenty-two, a neighbor, were arrested today on charges of arson, following a fire in which five horses were burned to death when a large barn on the farm of Henry Nayrocker, two miles east of the city, was totally destroyed Friday night. The three defendants live in the same neighborhood with Nayrocker. The older of the Shade brothers was arrested by Sheriff Robertson, Chief of Police McCord and Officers Wallace and Russell in this city. His brother was taken in custody by Sheriff Robertson and Chief of Police McCord. Deppert was arrested by the local police chief. He was found in a vacant house on his father's farm, and said he had been sleeping.

F. W. Wesner was employed by the Shade brothers and T. M. Honan was engaged by Deppert. The attorneys agreed with Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Montgomery to have the cases filed directly in circuit court and to have Judge Swails issue bench warrants for the men. This action was taken as the cases would be tried in circuit court and also to avoid the necessity of making a record in the city court and again in the circuit court. The warrants were sent here during the afternoon and the defendants were arranging to give bond for their appearance later.

The attorneys for the defendants instructed them not to talk about the case to any one except in the presence of their legal representatives. Attorney Wesner said he had nothing to say concerning the arrests or what course would be taken except that the defendants would plead not guilty. Considerable surprise was occasioned by the arrest of the young men as they are members of well known families in this part of the county.

Following the fire a call was sent to Bedford for Owens' bloodhounds. The Bedford man and his dogs arrived at the Nayrocker farm at an early hour and the hounds were taken to the scene of the fire. It is reported that they started across a newly plowed field and went to the Shade home. Persons who were with the dogs said that no tracks were visible in the newly plowed ground. The arrest of the Shade brothers and the destruction of the Nayrocker barn recall that recently Mr. Nayrocker was a witness in a trial in circuit court at which the Shade boys were charged with larceny. The defendants in this case were acquitted by a jury.

The police and Sheriff Robertson are working on the case in the endeavor to unearth evidence. It is said that two of the defendants were in the city shortly before midnight Friday and rented a buggy from a local livery barn which was returned about 1:30 o'clock.

The fire was discovered by Miss Alice Nayrocker, a daughter, about 1 o'clock. Her father and brothers were called but when they went to the barn the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to get to the horses. The barn was in fairly good condition. On the west and north sides of the barn were the stables where the horses were kept. The entire building was totally destroyed. A new wheat drill and a hay rake were also consumed. Every piece of harness on the farm was lost.

Mr. Nayrocker was in the city this morning and said that he carried $500 worth of insurance on the barn but that the live stock and farming implements were unprotected. He estimates his loss at about $1,500. A small quantity of corn, oats and other feed were burned. Mr. Nayrocker said that he was offered $160 for one of the horses on Friday, but had refused the offer. He estimated that the three horses and two colts were worth about $600.

The building was rapidly consumed but the fire was confined to the barn and the house was not damaged. A large pile of fence rails near the barn was burned.

Shortly after the fire was discovered a call was sent to Bedford for Owens' bloodhounds and the Bedford man with his dogs arrived at the Nayrocker farm about daylight.

DR. E. C. WAREING ELECTED EDITOR OF M. E. PUBLICATION

Placed in Charge of Western Christian Advocate by M. E. General Conference.

Dr. E. C. Wareing, well known in this city, was elected Friday at the Methodist Episcopal general conference at Saratoga, N. Y., as editor-in-chief of the Western Christian Advocate, a Methodist publication issued at Cincinnati. He was chosen by a substantial plurality over two other candidates for the place. For several years Dr. Wareing has been assistant editor but the responsibility of the work fell upon him because of the failing health of Dr. Levi Gilbert, the chief editor. The honor is one of the highest that can come from the general conference of the church with the exception of the bishopric.

The first information of Dr. Wareing's honor came here late Friday afternoon in a telegram to Mrs. J. H. Matlock, his mother-in-law.

ESTIMATES FILED BY ROAD VIEWERS

Seymour and Cortland Road Including a Street in the City Receives the Highest Estimate.

PRICE ATTRACTS ATTENTION

High Estimate Due to Extra Width in City, a Bridge and Protection for Road Through the Bottoms.

The viewers on the Jackson township end of the Seymour and Cortland road have filed their report and estimate of the cost with the county auditor at Brownstown. The road extends from the intersection of Sixth and O'Brien streets west on the Sixth street road to the Bells' ford bridge over White River. In the country the roadway will be sixteen feet wide, and in town twenty-nine feet wide with a three-foot curb and gutter on both sides of the street, making the total width in town thirty-five feet.

The viewers' report calls for brick paving and the items in their estimate are as follows:

Brick in place.....	$59,079.60
Excavation .....	2,875.00
Apron protection, curb, riprap and rolling....	3,536.75
6,029 feet curb and gutter	3,617.40
Bridge .....	2,500.00
Bridge floor .....	425.00
Channel and channel covers .....	2,000.00
Intersection drains .....	300.00
Stone and rolling.....	1,500.00
Rolling sub-grade .....	3,282.20
Contractors profit, 20 per cent. ....	15,823.23
Total .....	$94,939.18

On a cement road the price of construction is variously estimated at from $1,500 to $3,000 per mile less than brick. Allowing for the extra width of the street in Seymour a cement road would be estimated at $83,000 to $89,000. Much of the extra cost is due to the fact that the plan contemplates a twenty-nine foot wide street besides curb and gutter for nearly a mile through the city along Sixth street. Whether brick or cement is used this adds greatly to the cost of construction.

Besides this the bridge to be built, the riprapping protection through the bottoms add largely to the cost. The item of brick in place includes a contractor's profit to which has been added another twenty per cent. profit, or nearly $12,000 which seems to be an error in the estimate of that amount.

The other roads which are to be built east, south and west are estimated as follows:

Seymour and Four Corners road, 10,580 feet, $28,263.66, cement 16 feet wide.

Seymour and Dudleytown road, 9,535 feet, $26,138.00, cement 16 feet wide.

Seymour and Brownstown road, 10,900 feet, $27,321.77, cement 16 feet wide.

Stahl road about 9,500 feet, $18,205.00, water bound macadam, 16 feet wide.

CROTHERSVILLE SCHOOL TO HOLD COMMENCEMENT

Yesterday was Class Day in the Crothersville high school. The seniors took advantage of the opportunity to have a lot of fun at the expense of the under classes and the faculty. The exercises required almost the entire afternoon.

The commencement exercises will be held tonight. There will be twelve graduates in the class, this is one of the largest classes that has gone from that school for some time.

The Senior class presented their class play, "A Busy Liar," to a crowded house last night. The play is a military comedy. The students of the graduating class had the play well in hand and made a great hit in their final presentation.

2. Would you like to have Miss Peet return to Seymour next year? Why?

First prize: Five piece kitchen set.

Second prize: Two piece carving set.

"It do not know of any town where I would rather have a return date than Seymour," was the comment of Miss Peet just before leaving Friday evening after spending a week with the Seymour ladies in the Republican Better Foods Better Homes Cooking School. Miss Peet was greatly pleased with the attendance, especially considering the extremely hot weather and the numerous other attractions including the high school commencement.

"At no place I have visited," said Miss Peet, "have I found the business men more courteous and more ready to respond to our needs than they have in Seymour." She spoke frequently of the excellent quality of provisions which she secured from the stores in Seymour. She stated that the milk which was furnished by Swengle's dairy was the best she had ever secured for her school. She also indicated that as long as the ladies could secure such flour as Colonial and Success from their home millers, there was no occasion to go away from home to purchase flour.

The women of Seymour showed their appreciation of Miss Peet's work by their attendance and by the interest which was manifested day after day in the instruction Miss Peet has been giving. During the week there were quite a number of visitors also from surrounding towns including Brownstown, Vallonia, Medora, Crothersville, Reddington, Cortland and many country neighborhoods near Seymour.

All over town the ladies have been talking with enthusiasm about the cooking school and many have expressed a desire that Miss Peet may be secured for another week's series of demonstrations next year.

The Republican appreciates the interest which the ladies have taken in the school and hopes the instruction received will help in making better

DR. WAITE FOUND GUILTY; TO DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

New York Dentist Declared to be Murdered of His Millionaire Father-in-law.

By United Press.

New York, May 27—Dr. Arthur Waite was this afternoon found guilty of murder in the first degree for the poisoning of his millionaire father-in-law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

The jury which considered Waite's case retired at 1:23 and reported its verdict at 2:45.

Waite will be sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing. He was remanded to the Tombs for sentence on June 1.

When word was received that the jury was ready to report, Waite was brought in by two bailiffs, one walking in front of him and one behind him. His face was firmly set and he displayed no emotion whatever. He was told to stand as the verdict was pronounced. The foreman's words "guilty as charged," were scarcely audible. An immediate poll of the jury was taken, Waite standing unflinchingly. He was then asked the usual questions as to his age, place of birth, etc. and the only sign he gave that anything unusual had taken place was in his manner of reply.

Waite spoke in such low tones that it was necessary for a bailiff to repeat his answers.

Waite is sane now and was sane at the time he poisoned his millionaire father-in-law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Dr. Smith Gallith, alienist for the state, declared on the witness stand today. He said that he reached his conclusion after talking with Waite and examining him for mental soundness.

ALUMNI RECIEVES GRADUATING CLASS

Local Association Holds Annual Reception for the Members of the 1916 Class.

ASSOCIATION IS INCORPORATED

Plans Formulated for Society to Act as Trustee for Girls' Educational Fund.

The Senior class of 1916, Shields high school, was formally received into the Alumni Association last evening in what was pronounced by many to be the most eventful meeting the association has held since its organization. For the first time in its history the alumni association met last night as an incorporated body. The articles of incorporation which were adopted by the board of directors at a former meeting, and the charter which has been received from the secretary of state, were read and approved, and the association is now in position to act as trustee for the loan fund which has been started by the Friday Magazine Club of this city.

Following closely upon the reading of the articles of incorporation, and the explanation of the purpose in incorporating, came a surprise from the newly made members of the organization, the class of 1916, to the effect that they desired to contribute to this fund the proceeds of their class play. The offer was accepted with a rising vote of thanks. A committee composed of Mrs. R. O. Mayes, Miss Amy Roegge and Harry H. McDonald, was named to send an expression of thanks from the alumni to the Friday Magazine Club, for their gift, and to Mrs. E. B. Thompson in appreciation of the gift of the Sheffield scholarship at Yale, given in memory of her husband, E. B. Thompson.

The incorporation of the alumni will, it is believed, mean much to the organization. It is the hope and belief of the officers and directors, as well as all of the membership, that it will result in its taking a front rank in the organizations which have for their purposes the advancement of social and educational ideals, and in making it a vital factor in the city's development and growth. The paragraph of the articles of incorporation which indicates the object of the association reads as follows:

ALLIES EFFECTING TRADE AGREEMENT

U. S. to Encounter Difficulties in Making New Commercial Treaty With Russian Government.

JEWISH QUESTION IS FACTOR

Until Allied Compact is Concluded Russian Will Make no Outside Agreements.

(By William Phillip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent.) (Copyrighted by the United Press 1916.)

Petrograd, May 27—The United States faces the greatest difficulties in its attempt to negotiate its commercial treaty with Russia to replace the one abrogated during President Taft's administration because of the Jewish question. The United Press learned this from an unimpeachable source today.

"The treaty negotiations have been begun six months too late," was stated here. "The allies are now perfecting a trade agreement among themselves. Until this is concluded Russian manifestly will make no outside arrangements." Ambassador Francis is bound to encounter difficulties, at least momentarily.

FOREIGN OFFICE STAFF REFUSED COMMENT ON NOTE

British Minister of Blockade Explains Mail Delays to Infrequent Sailings.

By United Press.

London, May 27—The text of the American note on mail seizure had not been studied by foreign office officials today and they refused to comment on cable summaries.

Lord Robert Cecil, minister of blockade, who received correspondence before the note arrived attributed much of the delay in mail to and from the United States in infrequent sailings of mail boats. He pointed out that before the war many boats were plying between the United States and England and between England and continental ports and now several days intervened between sails.

AIRMEN ENGAGE IN EIGHT DUELS

Most Thrilling Aerial Battle of the War.

FRENCH REPORT PROGRESS

German Attack on French Behind Ft.
Douaumont Repulsed — Teutons
Lose Trench on Bois D'Haudromont
Line—Italians Fall Back.

Paris, May 27.—An official communique states that a Fokker was brought down north of Vaux and two avions were seriously damaged and forced to land near Etain, after a spectacular battle between a French squadron and a group of German avions.

This was one of the sharpest aerial battles yet fought, in which the American squadron gained further distinction. Lieutenant Thaw and Kiffin Rockwell flew out at 5 o'clock in the morning and saw a Fokker and an Aviatik close by. Lieutenant Thaw dived for the Fokker and Corporal Rockwell followed. The Aviatik dived for Lieutenant Thaw and then caught sight of Corporal Rockwell's machine and turned and hurried to safety.

Lieutenant Thaw, when fifteen yards from the Fokker, fired. The German machine fell at almost the first shot. This was the Fokker mentioned in the communique.

At 8:30 o'clock on the same morning the whole American squadron went out over the German lines, as its work is mainly preventive, to stop Germans from flying over to make observations of the French lines. The squadron soon found itself in the midst of a group of German avions, and a general battle followed in which, at times, four or five German machines beset a single American one. Eight distinct duels were registered during the next two hours.

A powerful attack was delivered by the Germans in the afternoon against the trenches occupied by the French immediately behind Fort Douaumont, when they were compelled to retire from their positions. French mitrailleuses and rifle fire completely checked the German advance, while the French artillery shelled German troops which were deploying in the Bois Chaufour, to the west of the village of Fort Douaumont, to support the attack.

The Austrians continue their heavy hammering at the Italian front in the southern Trentino and the Italians have again fallen back on the Astico as a result of terrific artillery fire concentrated on the line between the Astico and the Posina to the west.

On the rest of the Trentino front the Italians are making a determined stand and so far are holding the Austrian forces back in spite of the continual artillery bombardment and repeated blows by masses of infantry.

The Austrians suffered their most severe check in the Lagarina valley, where they threw dense masses of troops against the Italians. They suffered heavily under the Italian fire and the attacks failed.

A violent attack which already has continued for over a day, is still in progress east of the Assa valley. Neither side has yet gained any definite success.

FIND BODY OF YOUNG GIRL

Boy Held Pending Inquiry Into Murder of School Girl.

Hartford City, May 27.—The body of Belle Ashbaugh, age fourteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ashbaugh, was found stretched across a freight track at the Pennsylvania passenger station at midnight after a search of many hours, during which the entire city was scoured by relatives and the police. There was evidence of a struggle near where the body was found. The girl's clothes were torn from the body as it was dragged along the ground to the track. Pieces of cloth marked the route of the body.

John Starkey, age seventeen, employed at the Gem bakery, was arrested and is being held pending the outcome of an investigation. Starkey was the last one seen with the girl Miss Ashbaugh was a pupil in the schools and according to her mother always had remained at home. The murder has caused much excitement in this city.

NEUTRAL POWERS SUPPORT U. S.

Entente Note Believed to Be Convincing.

MAIL SEIZURES MUST STOP

Reply of the United States to the Joint Note of the British and French
Governments Protests Against Their Treatment of Mails.

Washington, May 27.—The reply of the United States to the joint memorandum of the British and French governments on the question of interference with the mails is an emphatic, and, the state department believes, convincing legal argument against the present practices of the French and British authorities in their treatment of mails from and to the United States.

The United States characterizes the wrongs done to American citizens through these practices as intolerable, states that it expects these practices to cease and adds that only a radical change restoring to the United States its full rights as a neutral power will satisfy this government.

It is known that the United States has the support of Holland, Sweden and other neutral countries in its protest to the entente. These other neutral powers have already protested against wrongs which the citizens have suffered.

The United States admits that the entente may search mail on belligerent vessels to ascertain whether contraband is being transmitted under sealed cover, and this government also admits that the entente may intercept at sea all mails coming out of and going into ports of the enemy coasts, which are effectively blockaded.

But the methods employed by the British and French authorities are severely scored. The note states that these authorities remove all mails genuine correspondence, as well as post parcels, and take them to London where they are delayed for days, weeks or even months.

The British and French practice amounts to an unwarranted limitation of the use of neutrals of the world's highways for the transmission of correspondence, the note says.

The United States contends that this is a violation of the prior contract of nations, which Great Britain and her allies have in the past assisted to establish and maintain. A detailed summary of injuries in a commercial sense suffered by American citizens through unwarranted interference with the mails is given in the note.

ALARMED OVER ZAPATA'S THREATS

Americans Warned Again to Leave Mexico.

NEW CAMPAIGN OF TERROR

Notorious Bandit Leader Announces
He Will Attack Railway Trains
With View of Killing Foreigners, Particularly Americans.

Washington, May 27.—General Emiliano Zapata, leader of the notorious bandits, who have been operating in the vicinity near Mexico City and in the territory lying between the Mexican capital and Vera Cruz, has launched a new campaign of terrorism against all foreigners, and particularly Americans, according to warning issued by the Mexican embassy.

The announcement states that Zapata has declared his intention no longer to fight the Carranzistas, but to confine all future operations to attacks on railway trains with a view to slaughtering traveling foreigners.

Inasmuch as Zapata has several times of late succeeded in cutting off railroad communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, the situation has occasioned considerable alarm in Washington. At the present time American consuls in Mexico, acting under instructions from the state department, are endeavoring to persuade all Americans who will listen to leave Mexico.

Because of the fact that all foreigners are included in the bandit leader's threat, the concern of American officials is shared by European diplomats here.

Zapata, who was at one time an ally of Carranza, has frequently boasted that if he ever succeeded in getting control of Mexico he would drive out or massacre all foreigners and by completely destroying all telegraph and other systems of communication, would isolate Mexico from the rest of the world.

In El Paso it is stated that it is becoming more apparent every day that Carranzistas and Villistas have a common ground in their hatred of Americans. Early this week, dispatches from the Pershing column brought the news that the Carranza garrison at Madera was particularly obnoxious in its efforts to induce the natives to resent the presence of American soldiers in Mexico.

General Gavira said that one of his reasons for asking for a conference with General Pershing, the American commander, was for the purpose of arranging to keep Carranza troops and the American troops as widely separated as possible.

BOY TO GET SPANKING

Disappeared With $10,515 From Office of J. P. Morgan & Co.

New York, May 27.—There is a sixteen-year-old boy in this city that is going to get the grandest spanking a boy ever got. This statement is made on the authority of J. P. Morgan.

According to detectives who investigated the boy's disappearance, it was MacManus's duty to distribute pay envelopes to the employees of the firm every Friday.

Another office boy employed by the firm also disappeared about the same time, the police learned. MacManus had been in the employ of the firm two years.

Mr. Morgan and his associates have no present intention of trying to send to jail the lad who proved faithless to a trust. They regard him simply as a foolish boy and think that a good spanking will about fit the case.

Lamar on Way to Prison.

New York, May 27.—David Lamar left here in the custody of two United States deputy marshals for Atlanta, Ga., to serve two years in the penitentiary for impersonating A. In store windows, on store counters and nearly all good homes you'll find Calumet Baking Powder. Find it highly recommended and enthusiastically praised. It's Calumet Week, with the dealer. But it will be Calumet all the time with scores of housewives from now on. After the first trial of Calumet; after the delicious bakings it produces have been tested; after the money and baking materials it saves have been considered.

Try Calumet. You can do so without risk or obligation. For your dealer will sell you a can on condition that it can be returned and your money refunded if you are not delighted after a thorough test. Try it. It's far more economical than trust brands—costs about half the price. More economical to use than Cheap Big Can Powders that sell for a few cents less—because it eliminates bake day failures and prevents the waste of baking materials. Always sure. Always pure—in the can and in the baking. Complies with pure food laws.

New York, May 27.—The selection of Dr. Karl Helfferich for minister of the interior and vice chancellor of Germany, which at last has been officially announced, is regarded in Berlin not only as an event of the greatest political importance, but at the same time is the most promising symptom to date of a state of mind there which justifies the belief that there is at least a possibility of peace, so far as Germany is concerned, in the not too remote and indefinite future.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

EXPERT TESTIMONY.

Dr. John Dill Robertson, Chicago's health commissioner, has this to say about alcohol:

"In the city of Chicago, where the death rate is approximately 100 a day, it is safe to say that at least 25 per cent of these deaths are caused directly or indirectly by alcohol.

"Sir William Osler, late of Johns Hopkins, professor of medicine at Oxford, McGill and Pennsylvania universities and one of the world's greatest physicians, says of alcohol that it produces acute inflammation of the stomach, hemorrhage of the pancreas, heart disease, cancer of the stomach, Bright's disease, fatty liver, hardened liver, inflammation of the nerves, epilepsy, hardening of the arteries and a multitude of other afflictions of the body.

"These are known medical facts. Alcohol is truly a poison. It is not only the causative factor in the diseases and afflictions I have mentioned above, but it invades the mental man and produces insanity.

"Alcoholic pneumonia is known to every practitioner. In the past twenty years in Chicago the death rate from pneumonia was just twice what it was the preceding twenty years. Alcohol is without doubt to blame for a part of these deaths, for in alcoholic pneumonia the death rate is tremendous.

"No one can estimate the large number of people whose death certificates are marked by a diagnosis which seems to have no connection with alcohol. Still, if the truth were known it was the predisposing factor in the death of them.

"When I say that 25 per cent of the death rate is directly or indirectly due to alcohol, I do not exaggerate. Twenty per cent of the mortality among infants is caused by their having alcoholic parents. Alcoholic poverty—and I believe this phrase needs no explanation—is one of the great indirect causes."

CIRCUS MAN'S VIEW.

The plans for booking the big circuses hereafter is to play only dry towns, with the exception of the large cities. The manager of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus says, as reported by William Allen White in the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette: "We do a better business in a dry town than in a wet one. We noticed the difference in Missouri; always the day's receipts were better in a town that had gone dry under local option than in a town where saloons were open. And business is better in Kansas than it was in Missouri.

"I have seen this whole game up and down and backward and across, and I want to tell you that all this talk about a town needing saloons or gambling houses to stimulate business is the purest bunk."

"Here is an amusement man's point of view on booze," comments Mr. White. "Once again the verdict is thumbs down for John Barleycorn. Poor old John! He can't mix with religion or politics or business. If he can't mix with the amusements where does he get in? And the answer is that national prohibition is just around the corner."

SWEEPING VICTORIES.

When in March the province of Manitoba, Canada, voted dry (by a majority of more than two to one), it added 251,832 square miles to the prohibition territory of North America. The dominion of Canada is rapidly going dry. Alberta, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland and Nova Scotia (with the exception of Halifax) have outlawed the liquor traffic; Saskatchewan has abolished all bar and club licenses until after the war, the residue of the traffic being under control of the provincial government; New Brunswick has prohibition in ten out of fifteen counties; about two-thirds of the territory of Quebec is dry; in Ontario and in British Columbia a plebiscite will be taken this year.

BARTENDER'S FUTURE.

"There are about 100,000 bartenders in the United States. What will become of them when the saloon is abolished? What is it that makes a successful bartender? It is his ability as a salesman, and a man who is a good bartender will make a good clerk or salesman in practically any other kind of business. Furthermore, it requires many more people to sell $200,000,000 worth of bread and clothing, for example, than it does to sell liquor of the same value. And it is more than likely that at least as many salaried employees, such as traveling salesmen, bookkeepers and stenographers, will be employed.—Charles Stelzle.

TO REAL ESTATE MEN.

A suggestion made by Duncan C. Milner in Chicago Daily News is well worth passing on. "Real estate men," he says, "who lay out new additions to the city could do much for the future well-being of those who buy their lots by making provisions in the deeds against the introduction of saloons. This plan has been often carried out to the great gain of the owner of the land.

JURY IS ACCEPTED IN GRAFT TRIAL

Several Witnesses Missing May Delay Trial.

Muncie, Ind., May 27.—Ten farmers, one laborer and a salesman compose the jury that will try Gene Williams, deputy prosecuting attorney, who is on trial in the circuit court on a grand jury indictment charging conspiracy to solicit and accept bribes. The jury was accepted by both the state and the defense.

The attorneys in the case spent four days in seeking a jury acceptable to both sides and more than 100 takersmen were examined.

After the jury had been accepted Special Prosecutor W. A. Thompson created a stir in the court room when he made an oral motion that the jurors not be sworn for duty. He told Judge Gause that the state was not sure as to whether or not it wanted to go to trial at this time and he asked until Monday to decide whether or not the state would go to trial.

Special Prosecutor Thompson declared that several of the state's most important witnesses could not be located and for that reason, he said, the state was not prepared to go to trial at once. Judge Gause would not grant a continuance until Monday morning.

Attorneys for the state say that several of their chief witnesses are outside the jurisdiction of the court and, although no charges have been made in open court, counsel for the state are of the belief that several of their witnesses have been spirited away.

It is thought that most of the state's case will be woven around the testimony of Robert B. Crabbs and Lloyd W. Yount.

Butchers Arrested For Bribing Veterinarians to O. K. Cattle.

New York, May 27.—Chief Magistrate McAdoo issued warrants for the arrest of eleven proprietors of abattoirs in this city on charges of having bribed veterinarians of the health department to permit the slaughter of cattle infected with tuberculosis and other diseases. In the office of Commissioner of Accounts Leonard M. Wallstein is $1,270 in bills, bloodsmeared with the finger prints of the butchers who are accused of having bribed the city's representatives. The stained money will be turned over to the Bertillon experts at police headquarters.

According to Wallstein's sleuths, a certain clique of abattoir owners made a practice of slaughtering diseased cattle and selling it to retail butchers in the tenement district.

GRANTS RAILROADS' PETITION

Public Service Commission Postpones Rate Revision Hearing.

Indianapolis, May 27.—The public service commission has granted the request of the railroads for a delay of the hearing on the petition which they filed a long time ago for a general revision of freight rates in Indiana.

The railroads said they have been unable to complete the investigations and computations on which they wish to base their case. The hearing was set for June 6, but the commission postponed it until Oct. 1, which is on Sunday. The hearing will begin Monday, Oct. 2, therefore, unless it is postponed again.

2,000 Cases of Measles.

Indianapolis, May 27.—About 2,000 cases of measles have been reported to the city board of health during May, according to incomplete statistics prepared in the office of the city board of health, establishing a new record for this disease in Indianapolis. It is expected several hundred additional cases will be reported before June 1.

SIGNS INCOME TAX BILL

Massachusetts Measure Taxes Incomes From All Sources.

Boston, May 27.—Governor McCall has signed the income tax bill, considered one of the most important and far-reaching pieces of legislation put through in years.

It provides for a 6 per cent tax on incomes from intangible personal property, and 1½ per cent on the income from trades, professions and business in excess of $2,000. It also provides for a 2 per cent tax on the income of profits from stock speculation and carries a compulsory return provision with a heavy penalty for violation. The tax committee estimates that $5,000,000 intangible personal property escapes taxation each year.

Garbage and Ash Notice.

The City of Seymour, (that means you), is paying $1,800 a year for garbage and ash removal. We believe practically all the people appreciate this service, nevertheless we are not getting the full benefit of this expenditure on account of lack of system in doing the work. A former council passed an ordinance providing rules and regulations, which if carried out in detail would simplify the matter very much, making Seymour a much more sightly city to say nothing of the improved sanitary conditions. These rules and regulations can not be carried out by the officers without the cooperation of every citizen (that of course includes you). We are accordingly setting forth these regulations in order that every citizen may have the opportunity to inform himself as to his duties and obligations in this matter and thereby be the better able to contribute his mite towards making Seymour a more desirable place to live.

We request the careful perusal and strict compliance with these on the part of every citizen (this includes you).

RULES.

(I) Burn everything that will burn.

(II) Place cans, broken glass, etc. in a receptacle to themselves.

(III) Place cinders and ashes in a receptacle to themselves.

(IV) All garbage must be kept in a water tight, covered vessel.

(V) All garbage and refuse must be kept on premises convenient to the alley.

Rule IV while probably the most important is the least observed. The Board of Health informs me special attention will be given to this and that all citizens will be required to furnish prescribed receptacle or else bury their garbage on their premises not less than 18 inches deep. Inspection will be made at regular intervals commencing June 1.

It seems to be necessary to amplify Rule V. All garbage and other refuse must be kept on premises convenient to alley.

Section V of the ordinance specifically prohibits the deposit of any kind of refuse in street or alley, "unless immediately removed or destroyed by fire."

Again we request every citizen to familiarize himself with these five simple rules and then strictly observe them, to the end that Seymour may be not only a more sightly but a more healthy and agreeable place generally to live in.

ALUMNI RECEIVES GRADUATING CLASS

"The object of this association is to encourage higher education and to promote the welfare of Shields high school and the members of the Alumni Association, by giving appreciative encouragement to all worthy activities of the high school; by providing for the social and educational improvement of the members of the Alumni Association; by securing and maintaining a loan fund for the purpose of aiding worthy members of this association in securing a college education; and by endeavoring to be influential in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the city of Seymour."

Committees were appointed to arrange for a reunion meeting of all alumni of the school, to be held in connection with the annual business meeting of the association on Friday, December 29th. Special efforts will be made to have every member of the association present, and nothing will be left undone to make this the best meeting the alumni has ever held.

A committee was also appointed to take up the matter of an alumni play to be presented some time in the fall. With the wealth of talent in the organization it is believed an excellent production can be staged, and a neat sum realized for the treasury. A play dealing with Indiana life, in keeping with Centennial year, will probably be selected.

In the absence of both the president and vice-president, who are in college, Miss Ella Davison, chairman of the program committee, presided, and welcomed the new members into the Alumni. The response for the class was by William Mackey. The following program was then given: Solo .....Leland Bridges. Reading.....Mrs. R. O. Mayes. Solo .....Leonard Bartlett. Reading .....Rebecca Dixon. Solo.....Miss Adelaide Gasaway. Prof. T. A. Mott and Miss Kate Andrews were called on and both responded with timely and much appreciated remarks. Prof. Mott said he had attended many alumni meetings, both of high schools and colleges, but that he thought the one last night was the most important one, from a standpoint of future possibilities for good, of any he had ever attended. Both he and Miss Andrews congratulated the class of 1916 on their gift, and expressed the belief that classes in the future would adopt a similar plan, and that the loan fund would grow until it became large enough to be of great help to ambitious students.

Following the program, light refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy extended us during the illness, death and burial of our beloved son and brother, Matthew H. DRESS NOVELTIES SHOWN AT WOMEN'S CLUBS MEETING

Considered One of the Most Important Features of Home Economic Division.

By United Press.

New York, May 27.—Wonderful new dresses, from chic novelties and simple gowns to veritable creations are being made and shown, beginning today, in the home economic division of the Federated Women's Clubs National convention here. One of the important features of the daily conference is the presentation of suggestions for a sensible but becoming and attractive dress for club members.

Mrs. W. K. James, of St. Joseph, Mo., is showing her twenty thousand club sisters a brand new idea in costuming. She is wearing a dress of her own design made entirely of squares of cloth. You can use any old squares you happen to have for this costume. Mrs. James can build the most wonderful creations out of old squares. You use squares for the skirt and a square drapery for the waist, and more squares for the Grecian sleeves.

The clubwomen want to demonstrate that it is not necessary to adopt a uniform. They are seeking something unusual and becoming, and at the same time economical. They don't want to look as if they belonged to an institution. "We want something that is suitable for all occasions," said Miss Mary Garrett Hay, a board member. The sartorial program includes also the creation of a dress on the stage before the eyes of the spectators. It is done by a dressmaker.

Miss Helen Louise Johnson is chairman of the home economics department and presides. Assisting Miss Johnson will be Mrs. Dimies T. Dennison, at one time president of the General Federation. The program will deal with the "Meaning of the Home," the "Woman in the Home," the "Man in the Home" and the "Child in the Home." Some of the speakers to present these various subjects are Miss Kathleen Norris, Burgess Johnson, Mrs. Josephine Dodge Bacon, Mrs. Honore Willsie, Mrs. Alice Duer Miller and Frank Crowninshield.

PLEASED WITH THE SEYMOUR SCHOOL

ter homes in our city. If this shall be done the school will have accomplished its chief work for Seymour.

There are two prizes offered by the Fleischmann Yeast Company, which will be given away Monday at the Republican office to the two ladies writing the best statement not exceeding 125 words on either of the following topics:

(1) How the Republican Cooking School conducted by Miss Peet has benefited Seymour?

(2) Would you like to have Miss Peet return next year? Why?

The Republican will be able to gauge the interest which the ladies have taken in the school in a measure by the number of responses received. We trust, therefore, that there will be a large number of responses filed at this office sometime Monday in answer to one or the other of these subjects.

The Interstate Public Service Co. also has four prizes to award for the best white loaf cakes baked and delivered to their office not later than four p. m. Monday. These prizes will be awarded at 8:30 in the evening but the cakes must be entered by four o'clock. The four prizes are as follows:

First Prize: Acorn gas range which Miss Peet used at the cooking school.

Second Prize: Pittsburg Lion Water heater.

Third Prize: Reliable gas room heater.

Fourth Prize: "I Want You" Gas Iron.

The Republican wants to acknowledge its appreciation of the cooperation in the conduct of the cooking school, which was given by a number of business houses who furnished the use of various articles for the cooking school. The Interstate Public Service Co. furnished the gas range and stove, the plumbing and the fans; the Hoover Furniture Co. supplied the kitchen cabinet; the Cordes Hardware Co. the refrigerator and fireless cooker; the Hancock Music Store the musical programs on the New Edison; F. H. Heideman, tables and chairs; F. J. Voss and Masonic Lodge, chairs. This spirit of cooperation is not only appreciated but it helped to make the school the decided success which it proved to be.

An effort will be made by the Republican to secure Miss Peet's services for another series of lectures next year at a time when the weather will be cooler and the ladies can attend with more comfort than was possible during the extreme heat of this week.

WOULD PURCHASE DANISH ISLANDS

President Said to Be Negotiating For West Indies.

PRICE IS PUT AT $5,000,000

Consist of 138 Square Miles and Have Population of 27,086 Persons, Mostly Negroes—Previous Efforts to Buy Islands Bailed—Of Great Strategic Importance.

President Wilson is said to be negotiating for the purchase of the Danish West Indies. The price tentatively agreed upon is $5,000,000.

A treaty between Denmark and the United States providing for the transfer of the three little islands in the Antilles has been drafted by Secretary of State Lansing and Constantin Brun, the Danish minister here.

Extraordinary measures have been adopted to guarantee consummation of the deal, which twice before has been frustrated by the opposition of the German government to acquisition of the islands by the United States. The plan is to put through the scheme at once while Germany is too busy fighting the allies to interfere.

The utmost secrecy regarding the negotiations is being observed, and it is intended to seek simultaneous ratification of the treaty by the American senate and the Danish parliament at a single sitting.

If the cession of the islands be effected President Wilson will have broken all records in the last fifty years for the peaceful extension of American dominion and influence. He already has established a protectorate over Haiti and acquired a powerful influence over Nicaragua by purchase of the interoceanic canal right of way.

Strategic Importance. The Danish West Indies consist of the three small islands of St. Croix, St. Thomas and St. John, aggregating 138 square miles and possessing a population of 27,086 persons, mainly free negroes engaged in the cultivation of sugar cane. The islands, however, are of strategic importance, particularly in relation to the Panama canal.

Acquisition of the islands by an overseas power would be regarded by the United States as a violation of the Monroe doctrine. This menace will be removed by cession of the islands to the United States.

Seward negotiated the purchase of the islands in 1867 for $7,500,000, but the treaty failed of ratification by the senate. Germany once sought to buy the islands, and the United States warned Denmark against making the sale. In 1902 Secretary of State Hay negotiated the purchase for $5,000,000, but the treaty was rejected by the Danish parliament.

Within the last few years a German corporation built immense docks at St. Thomas, and it was reported that Germany was intent on gaining a foothold in the group.

BANDIT KILLED IN FIGHT

Shoots Police Sergeant Who Tried to Arrest Him.

San Francisco, Cal., May 27.—Barricaded in a boathouse on the edge of San Francisco bay, a desperado fought a gun and revolver battle with fifty policemen who surrounded him after he had killed John J. Moriarity, a police sergeant. The desperado was found dead when the police finally captured the boathouse, after shooting the lock off the door.

The bandit poured a stream of bullets at his uniformed pursuers, until fatally wounded. The police found many shotguns, rifles, automatic revolvers and stores of ammunition. The name of "M. E. Jones" was found on the tailor's label on the dead bandit's coat.

The bandit had taken refuge in the boathouse after he killed Moriarity, who sought to arrest him for passing counterfeit money on street cars.

BRANDEIS TO BE CONFIRMED

Nomination Will Be Disposed of in Senate Without Delay.

Washington, May 27.—An agreement was reached among senators under which the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis of Boston to the supreme court of the United States, will be disposed of finally next week practically without discussion in the senate. The specific date will be fixed later.

Those opposing Mr. Brandeis admitted the nomination virtually was certain of confirmation. The agreement was reached by Republican members of the judiciary committee, who oppose confirmation, and their Democratic colleagues who carried through these favorable reports on the nomination.

Majority and minority reports will be made public when the senate's action is announced.

AFTER IGY BATH HE WALKS IN UNDERWEAR

Fisherman Escapes Drowning, but Goes Four Miles Barefooted to Get Help.

Britton, S. D.—Compelled to walk a distance of four miles to the nearest farmhouse barefooted and clad only in his underclothing was the distressing experience of John Knaak, a Marshall county man, following a disaster which overtook him while fishing on Roy lake, some miles from here.

He was in a boat alone, and when he attempted to make his way to shore the boat, which it developed had been overloaded with nets, sank to the bottom, throwing him into the icy waters of the lake.

He managed to reach a nearby net stake and, clinging to it, divested himself of his rubber boots, oilskins and all his wearing apparel but his underclothes.

After resting for a time he started to swim to shore, some distance away. He reached shore in an exhausted condition, and when he had somewhat recovered himself he started on the painful four mile journey to the farmhouse for assistance.

FINE DAY TO WED.

Girl Took Van Danacker After She Had a Breath of Spring Air.

St. Paul, Minn.—Wilfred Van Danacker of 459 Webster avenue strolled downtown the other day to keep an engagement with a young woman.

"Wouldn't this be a fine day to get married?" he queried to the young woman.

She took a deep breath of the warm spring air and agreed.

So they were married twenty minutes later by Harry Gallick, the court commissioner.

"I'll bet I got mine when the folks find out," the groom said. "Don't mention Miss—ah, I mean Mrs. Van Danacker's name. She has got to give her boss two weeks' notice."

Wanted to Be Fined.

Portland, Ore.—"I want to be fined. That law ought to be enforced, and I'm willing to pay." E. A. Coe, postmaster at Svenson, Ore., insisted before Federal Judge Bean recently that he ought to be fined. His son had operated a motorboat without having sand aboard to extinguish fire. The judge obliged him 25 worth.

BRITISH FAILURE AT KUT COMPLETE

Surrender of Townshend Caused Little Surprise, However.

LOST OVER 10,000 MEN.

Relief Expedition Only Twenty Miles Away, Unable to Break Through Turkish Positions and Supply Besieged Army With Food or Ammunition—Climate Against Invaders.

Another phase of the ill fated British campaign in Mesopotamia closed with the surrender of General Townshend and the garrison at Kut-el-Amara, about 130 miles below Baghdad. Some 10,000 men in all laid down their arms to the Turks.

The surrender of General Townshend is one of the few instances of the war in which an entire fighting unit of important numbers has laid down its arms. It is one of the largest bodies of troops of the entente allies which have surrendered and larger than any other captured French or British force.

The eventual surrender of General Townshend had been expected since the failure of the forces under Lieutenant General Goringe and General Keary to break through the Turkish position at Sannayyat, just below Kut-el-Amara, on the Tigris river, and the unsuccessful attempt to send the blockaded army provisions by steamers. It had been touch and go with the small British force for many days.

Up to the last General Townshend kept alive the hope that he would be relieved. King George sent a message of encouragement to him a month ago, and in a later message the general said he expected to be relieved shortly. He declared he would hold out to the limit of endurance, but the recent reverses suffered by the army which was attempting to rescue him apparently made the situation a hopeless one. One of General Townshend's messages a few weeks ago said all was well and that most wanted were needles for phonographs.

Difficult Undertaking.

The Mesopotamian campaign has been one of the most difficult the British army has undertaken during the war. The torrid climate and lack of fresh water, together with the difficulties of transport, made great calls on the endurance of the troops. Moreover, the positions held by the Turks below Kut-el-Amara, entrenched and strongly fortified, were very formidable. The original expedition was composed in part of Indian troops, but the relief force for the most part was made up of men from England and the colonies. The forces which attempted to relieve General Townshend met with almost continual misfortunes. On several occasions just when it was believed they were on the point of success rising waters made further progress impossible. After penetrating Turkish positions they were compelled to retire or remain stationary owing to the impossibility of attacking the position at Sannayyat, which was surrounded by water. The British troops did actually attack the prepared position there after wading through mud and water waist deep, but only to find when they did meet with some success that a failure at some other point made their sacrifice futile.

The British public never lost faith in General Townshend, and even now that he has been forced to capitulate after destroying everything at Kut-el-Amara that might be valuable to the Turks, they look back upon his campaign as a brilliant one.

The British Mesopotamian campaign, waged along the Tigris from the Persian gulf northward almost to the gates of Baghdad, had as its chief aim the capture of that ancient city. To divert Turkish forces from Gallipoli was another object. When almost at the point of achieving its main object late last year the effort broke down at Ctesiphon, eighteen miles from Baghdad, when the Turks, alarmed for the safety of the town of fabled memory, rushed up reinforcements, inflicted a defeat upon the British and compelled their retreat 110 miles down the Tigris to Kut-el-Amara, where the Turks soon had them securely bottled up.

General Townshend held out for 143 days, his supplies steadily growing lower as he waited the relief army.

Finds Oxen Handy.

Findlay, O.—The twentieth century rapid mode of traveling by the automobile has nothing on Winfield S. Rader of McComb. He owns a team of oxen, and with them he does nearly all his farm work. Within the past few weeks the team has pulled eight automobiles out of the mud near Rader's home.

Four Children in a Year.

Bristol, Tenn.—Mrs. Rufus Jones of Dante, a coal mining town in Russell county, has the distinction of having become the mother of four children within twelve months. In March, 1915, twins were born to her, and on Feb. 29, this leap year, twins were again born to her.

Man Killed by Automobile Truck.

Noblesville, Ind., May 27.—Frank Taylor, son of William A. Taylor, a well-known real estate dealer of this city, was run down and killed by an automobile truck on the street here.

"PLEASE DON'T ROB ME!" HIS FLEA TO BURGLARS

Jeweler Tries New Method to Keep Stock Intact—Has Appeal Published.

Paterson, N. J.—If there is any sporting blood in the veins of the industrious burglars who have made professional visits to Leon Friedmann's jewelry store here at regular intervals it is hardly possible that they can ignore their victim's final appeal.

Double locks, bars, burglar alarms and watchmen having proved equally futile, Friedmann decided to make a personal entreaty to the entire profession of burglars after a visit which cost him $2,000. He wrote this communication and caused it to appear in both the afternoon papers here, on the theory that an up to date burglar must read one of the two:

NOTICE TO BURGLARS.

Gentlemen—Members of your profession have called upon us with great profit to themselves of late. We feel that we have done our share toward your support; therefore we would desire it a great favor if you would take your trade elsewhere in the future, at least until we can recover from the many losses we have suffered in the past, all of which, unfortunately, are our own. Respectfully yours,

LEON FRIEDMANN.

ODD TOWN IN IOWA

Farmers Consolidate Interests, Transact Business Profitably.

FOUNDED AND RUN BY THEM.

Though Built Fourteen Years Ago, When Railroad Was Constructed, Fernald Has Population of Only 100, but Air of Mutual Interest Would Please Any One.

Des Moines, Ia.—Out on the prairies of Iowa is one of the most novel towns of the country. There is no bickering between townspeople and rural residents, as is often the case. The farmers for miles around feel perfectly free to go to town without wearing starched shirts and collars. There is an air of mutual interest between town and country which would gladden the heart of any rural life expert. The reason for this is that the town is owned by the farmers themselves.

When he goes to town to buy a bar of soap or a new plow the farmer buys of himself, or rather he is a partner in the store. When he goes to the elevator he sells to his company the grain he has brought in. Perhaps his next stop will be at a bank owned and managed by the farmers themselves.

The town is named Fernald. All of its business enterprises are owned by farmers living within a radius of three or four miles. Though built fourteen years ago, when the railroad was built, Fernald has a population of only 100 and probably will not grow much larger in the years to come, because of the nearness of numerous other towns. But this does not mean that Fernald does not expect to grow and prosper, for the town is practically all of their trading there instead of patronizing mail order houses or buying in neighboring towns. In fact, the town is just a big social center for the whole community.

The town was founded by the farmers in order to avoid making long hauls in delivering crops to the railroad. A line elevator was built shortly after the town was founded, but it was not until about two years ago that it was purchased by a group of farmers operating under the name of the Farmers' Grain company. H. S. Fleagle, the farmer who put through the deal, was made manager of the elevator. The investment proved a wise one, for in the first year under the new management the elevator paid a profit of 95 per cent on the $5,000 capital.

The Farmers' Lumber company was organized by four farmers with a capitalization of $6,400. Mr. Fleagle also manages the affairs of this company and its $10,000 stock. Another enterprise founded by the farmers was the Farmers' Co-operative Mercantile company. After a brief period of competition the rival mercantile store was compelled to close its doors, leaving the management of the town and its business affairs entirely in the hands of the farmers themselves.

The town's founders then established the Farmers' Savings bank, with a capital of $10,000. The deposits have reached the $40,000 mark in three years. Mr. Fleagle's ability for management was recognized a third time when he was made vice president of the bank.

Fernald is in Richland township, in Storey county. Extensive use of tile has converted the ordinary prairie land into some of the most valuable farms in the state.

NURSE TO BECOME QUEEN OF ISLAND

Will Rule Small Tribe In the Mideastern Pacific.

KINGDOM HAS 195 SOULS.

Pitcairn Island, Belonging to Great Britain, Has an Area of Two Square Miles—First Settled in 1790 by Members of Ship Crew Who Had Mutinied. Twenty-six Persons Started Tribe.

Miss Emily McCoy, a graduate nurse, who has lived in Bridgeport, Conn., eight years, will start within a few weeks for Pitcairn island, in the mid-eastern Pacific ocean, where she expects in time to be chosen as queen to succeed her father, who has been ruler of the little kingdom of 195 souls for many years.

She is going back to her people with twentieth century ideas and many plans, one of which is the determination to practice the art of healing among the inhabitants, to whom physicians, nurses and dentists have never been known since the island was colonized by mutineers 126 years ago.

Miss McCoy left Pitcairn island fifteen years ago by a missionary boat following the death of her mother, who suffered much because of want of medical aid. She promised then that she would not return until she equipped herself as a physician and nurse in order to be able to minister to the physical wants of the people of the island on which she was born. She studied medicine and dentistry at Samoa, and since she has been in this country she has thoroughly equipped herself in the science of nursing. She believes that she is qualified to do a mighty work of mercy among those she loves.

Will Take a Piano.

Miss McCoy will take with her a piano. With the exception of an organ which Queen Victoria gave to the Pitcairn islanders in 1870 the piano, she says, will be the only musical instrument on the island.

Inasmuch as the Pitcairn women are in the majority and women have the vote as well as men, there doesn't seem to be any doubt that Miss McCoy will in time be called upon to step into her father's shoes as the ruler. The ruler is chosen by direct election.

Ships seldom go to Pitcairn island, and Miss McCoy has been figuring for eight years just how to get home. The opening of the Panama canal gives vessels a direct route to the Samoan islands, and she is confident that she will be able to complete the trip without much difficulty.

Pitcairn island belongs to Great Britain. It lies south of the Paumotu archipelago and is a hundred miles from the nearest member of this group. It has an area of two square miles. The island was settled in 1790 by members of the crew of the ship Bounty, who had mutinied. Headed by Fletcher Christian, who led the mutineers, eight white men, six Polynesian men and twelve Polynesian women took possession of the beautiful island and burned the Bounty. Alexander Smith was the only man alive by 1800. He later took the name of Alexander John Adams and trained the youths who were left in his charge.

He was succeeded after his death in 1829 by George Hunn Nobbs, who was appointed pastor. In 1831 Joshua Hill, an adventurer, appeared at Pitcairn and, making a bluff that he was a government agent, tyrannized over the islanders until a British man-of-war put him out of business in 1838.

The islanders are closely intermarried and have, it is said, but five family names. All speak and write English and are Seventh Day Adventists. They have no money, and intoxication is unknown. Girls over seventeen can vote.

Ships rarely visit Pitcairn except when the crews are in need of vegetables and fruits.

WANTS GIRL FOR GODMOTHER.

Belgian Soldier Writes Burgomaster Mitchell, Asking For One.

Mayor Mitchell of New York has received the following communication from a Belgian soldier interned in Holland:

To the Burgomaster of the City of New York:

Sir—I, the undersigned, C. Lorrimer, quartermaster, have the honor of writing you this letter to beg you to be so kind as to give me the following information:

Is there not among the pretty girls of your city one who would be a godmother to a Belgian soldier and correspond with him? If so, I should be happy to be that soldier. Hoping that my request will meet with a favorable answer, I beg you, sir, to accept my respectful civilities.

C. LORRIMER,

Quartermaster Fourth Belgian Lancers, Car 26, Camp I, Zelst, Holland.

Burgomaster Mitchell thought that the best way to obtain the information desired by Quartermaster Lorrimer was to make his letter public. Some one in the mayor's office familiar with these matters appended to the letter the following inducement:

"This request for a 'marraine' is quite in keeping with what has been done during the winter all through France. Letters received in New York from young women in France show that there is a fairly widespread custom of the adoption of soldiers left without friends or family ('un poulu,' as they call them), and in some cases one girl is godmother to several 'poullus' and corresponds with them."

Two Interviews.

Francis Willett was doing rather well, Mr. Stacey told the young man's father. He was faithful, ambitious, prompt. His employer wanted to trust him even more than he did. But there was a drawback.

"That boy of yours," said Stacey, "is as bright as they make 'em. He has the commercial instinct."

"Look here, Stacey," said Willett. "If you think so well of the boy, I could buy a block of your stock, and Francis could be my personal representative on your board. It would be a great thing for the boy, and he'd see something substantial coming to him in the future."

"That's a good proposition, John," said Stacey, "except for one thing; and that's what I'm here to see you about."

"Well?" Somehow Willett felt a queer little dread before Stacey spoke again.

"I'll tell you, John. That boy of yours is too fond of—well—er—" Stacey made a significant gesture.

"But he's living at home, Stacey. I should know it, I'm sure."

"Don't fool yourself—or, rather, don't let Francis fool you. He's fallen in with a crowd who go to the Waldemere to lunch every day, and when he comes in for his afternoon work, I notice it. Lord love you, he'd be as surprised as anybody if he knew I suspected. But, John, he's only a boy, and he's forming a habit that may do him tremendous harm. If he could be made to promise to quit, and stick to it for a reasonable length of time, I'd entertain that proposition of yours mighty quick."

"Stacey, what do you advise? I'm at my wits' end. I'm afraid I'll do or say the wrong thing. Boys are so touchy, and I might tip over the apple cart. I tell you, it's a terrible situation."

"Wait a minute, John. There's something else I haven't told you. It may make a difference. He's got a girl."

"A girl? You mean—"

"In the glove department—a little beauty. The boy is fairly wild about her. I catch him down there two or three times a week. In fact, I had to caution him only yesterday. I can't have him neglecting business for a salesgirl. Last winter—I guess it was in January—he borrowed my new French runabout and took her riding. She lives out Hillside Falls way. I tell you, John, she's a beauty. Only, of course, she's rather humble—"

"Is her name Brown?"

"I believe so. Mary, I think."

"Mary Alice. I've known her since she was a little girl, and a smarter child never lived. I wonder if she's as bright now?"

"I understand she's one of our best salesgirls."

"Mary Alice, Mary Alice," repeated John Willett. "What if—I wonder what his mother'd say."

"I should think she'd be rather upset. She's an aristocratic woman, your wife."

"Stacey, you know aristocracy goes a precious little way with me. This girl saved my boy once. I wonder if we can't get her to help us save him again."

"She ought to be willing; he's a fine fellow. But if—"

"If what, Stacey?"

"I was thinking of the girl's own happiness. You know how it is, almost always, when a woman marries a man to reform him. It doesn't work."

"All right, then; let her reform him before she marries him. I tell you, Stacey, if he wants that girl and I can help him get her, he shall have her, provided he quits this foolishness. I'll settle it with Mrs. Willett. Now I tell you what. You send Mary Alice Brown to see me, right here in this office. Will you do it?"

"I most assuredly will, John. You can depend on it."

That afternoon Mr. Stacey—the Mr. Stacey—the merchant prince and all that sort of thing, was seen walking rather aimlessly about the aisles of his great store in the vicinity of the gloves.

"It's Stacey himself," whispered Lucy.

The merchant idly turned over a few pairs.

"Let me see," he said to Mary Alice Brown, "have you some of those new washable chamois, size seven and three-quarters?"

"I think so, Mr. Stacey."

"Those are the ones," said Stacey. "Let me see, what time is it? Dear me, I'm afraid I'm too late." The usually alert and decisive Mr. Stacey peered about him, as if in perplexity.

"You see, I'm in a rather embarrassing position. I—the fact is, I promised a friend of mine a pair of these gloves, and I said I'd send them to him before closing time. You don't happen to know where Mr. Willett's—Mr. John Willett's—office is, do you, young lady? He looked innocently at Mary Alice, over the tops of his glasses.

"Yes, sir, I know. It's in the Craddock building."

"That's right, that's right. Well, now, suppose you do this errand for me. Take this message to Mr. Willett, and be very careful to deliver it just as I give it to you. Say, 'Mr. Stacey wishes me to tell you that he has sent you what he promised.' Do you understand?"

To say that Mary Alice was quite unsuspecting would be doing her intelligence scant justice; yet she certainly could not see into the mystery. It might have just happened; still—

She told the clerk in John Willett's outer office that she wished to speak to Mr. Willett personally. She said to tell him Miss Brown was there, from Stacey's. The clerk came back and very politely ushered this unusually pretty girl into the inner office.

"Hello, Mary Alice," said Willett.

Mary Alice walked up to Willett and took the cordial hand he held out to her. He acted as if he had actually expected her. Then the message:

"Mr. Stacey wishes me to tell you that he has sent you what he promised."

"I should say he had, and mighty promptly, too," cried Willett; and the funny part was, Mary Alice hadn't given him the package containing the gloves. She laid it on the desk.

"Sit Down, Mary Alice—I Want to Talk to You."

"Sit down, Mary Alice. I want to talk to you."

He paid no attention to the gloves; so this was a plot. She began to feel excessively uncomfortable.

"Mary Alice, what do you think of my boy?"

The girl jumped. "Francis?" This was a foolish question, of course; but Mary Alice felt foolish.

"Francis. You thought enough of him once to save him from drowning."

"But, Mr. Willett—"

"Mary Alice, has Francis been making love to you?"

"Ye—no—well—why, Mr. Willett, what a question!"

"That's all right. He has, of course. Now, Mary Alice, do you love Francis?"

She said nothing this time.

"That's all right, then," went on Willett. "I just wanted to say to you, little girl, that nothing would please me so much as to have my boy marry as nice a—I mean, marry you!"

"But I'm afraid—"

"You needn't be. But there's something in the way. You're a pretty sensible girl, I guess. You have brains enough to know that a wise young woman never marries a man whose habits—"

"I don't think he—"

"Yes, he does; don't you tell me. I have it on the best authority that he does. Do you see him often? Afternoons or mornings?"

"Sometimes a little while in the morning, but not very often—lately. He's—he's rather put out with me, I guess."

"He'd better not be, he'd better not be. I want you to cultivate him—on courage him, Mary Alice. You'll make him a fine wife, if you love each other. But he must stop this foolishness. He'll stop for you."

"No, he won't."

"He won't? How do you know? Have you tried it? I thought you said he didn't drink much? How did you come to—"

Mary Alice related her experience at the Boreas Country club.

"Mary Alice, which of us is crazy? First you say he wanted to promise, and you wouldn't marry him; and then you say you wanted him to promise, and he refused."

"It's—you and Mrs. Willett."

"You mean you thought—"

"That you wouldn't want Francis to marry a shopgirl. So I said that if he made good, and his mother and father wanted me to marry him at the end of two years, I would."

"And he wouldn't agree to that? The young fool!"

"I'm afraid it's no use, Mr. Willett. I'm only a shopgirl after all; and Mrs. Willett would never forget it, and she'd always believe that I—er—robbed her of him, as if I said: 'Give him to me or I'll let him go to ruin.' She'd never forgive me."

"What a funny, distorted way you look at it, Mary Alice!" cried Willett desperately. "Suppose you don't marry Francis, and he comes to grief and brings all the rest of us to grief, how will you feel?"

"Terribly, of course. But why can't he listen to reason? If he promised ever so hard, I'd have to wait a couple of years. I'd want to be sure he'd stick to it."

"Well, Mary Alice, I think you are right about that. But I can assure you that Mrs. Willett and I—"

"I'll believe that if you say it again in two years," said Mary Alice; and it would have sounded like a very cold-blooded little speech but for the large, wet tears that were running down her face.

"Bless your heart, Mary Alice," cried John Willett. "You're miles too good for that boy. I'm going to have a talk with him."

"But you won't tell him you've seen me, will you?" sobbed Mary Alice Brown.

Seymour's fire map shows that the five wards are divided into twenty-two fire districts and when an alarm is given the fire bell gives the number of the ward in taps, then after a pause the district number is sounded. WHERE MR. SUN GOES FOR LUNCHEON.

"Now you will admit I'm pretty fine, won't you little fairies," said Mr. Sun. "Just stop for a moment and think how bright I am—just the most cheerful, warm, good-natured soul you ever knew. And what would the doctors do without me?"

"I'm sure we've no idea," said the fairies. They always so enjoyed a chat with Mr. Sun. "You certainly are much better than all the nasty medicines. Yes, it's true, you make ever and ever so many little sick boys and girls all well again."

"Indeed I do," said Mr. Sun growing brighter and prouder by the moment. "I just can't help thinking pretty well of myself when I hear the doctors say to the mothers and daddies, 'Now see that the boys and girls play in the warm sun. Then they'll get rid of their colds.'"

"Well," ventured one very brave little fairy. "I know you are wonderful and we all love you, Mr. Sun. But sometimes you know folks think you're very selfish when you go off on those long visits of yours and it rains all the time. Today I did hear some grumbling about you—I really, really did."

"Often I Have Fine Chats With the King of the Clouds."

"And pray tell me what I did?"

"Just at noon today when so many people were starting out with picnic boxes to the woods and with shopping bags to the city—for the longest while you disappeared and no one saw a sign of you. Everyone was afraid that you had had a fight with the King of the Clouds and that he had won and that soon he and his army of rain drops would fall to earth and it would pour."

"Well, now if that isn't the silliest!" said Mr. Sun. "And the idea of grumbling! Couldn't they understand that I had a luncheon party on for today behind the clouds?"

"Oh, was this the day for the party?" shouted the fairies. "Do tell us about it."

"Every time you hear the grown-up people say: 'The sun has gone behind a cloud,' then you may know that I'm having a luncheon party— I always call it luncheon, no matter what it is, because that does just as well as supper or afternoon tea or breakfast and it saves time and trouble. Very smart, eh?" And Mr. Sun beamed.

"You know how I love it back of the clouds," Mr. Sun continued. "If I didn't have a party once in awhile I wouldn't have any fun, for when I'm out shining over the earth people I have to use all my strength to see that flowers grow and the boys and girls keep warm."

"Ah, but it's fun behind the clouds. We had such a good time today. I never tried to shine at all. I just sank back and rested and dozed. Often I have fine chats with the King of the Clouds to be sure, and his army of raindrops. In the winter I talk with Old Man Snow and the little icicle princesses. But now I must get to work. The King of the Clouds is sleepy today so I said I would go on shining and the rain won't come until tomorrow when I'm giving the biggest luncheon of the year."

"That means a hard rainstorm, then tomorrow," laughed the fairies.

ONE HUNDRED LEADING HOOSIERS 1816-1916

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana
Historical Commission.)

CLEMENT STUDEBAKER (61)

Few names are better known, and perhaps no family contributed more to the material growth and substantial prosperity of the state of Indiana than the Studebaker family. Four brothers, bred in the trade of their father, John Studebaker, a blacksmith and wagon-maker combined energy and genius to build up one of the state's gigantic industries.

The four sons were Henry, Clement, Peter and John. Of these Clement lived longest and became most prominent. Born in Adams county, Penn., March 12, 1831, Clement Studebaker was unable by reason of poverty to obtain the liberal education which he desired. At the age of twenty he located at South Bend where, associated with his brother, he started a blacksmith shop out of which developed the largest manufacturing of wagons, carriages and other vehicles in the world. Studebaker was one of Indiana's greatest philanthropists. He died November 27, 1901.

THREE CORNERED FIGHT FOR COLLEGE TRACK HONORS

Notre Dame, Purdue and DePauw and Wabash not far Behind was Dopesters' Schedule.

By United Press

Lafayette, Ind., May 27.—A three cornered fight for first place between Notre Dame, Purdue, and Indiana University with DePauw University and Wabash College not far behind was the dopesters' predictions for the annual Indiana State College track meet scheduled to be held on Stuart Field at Purdue University this afternoon.

Not in the history of state college meets was the result more in doubt than it was this afternoon. None of the three larger schools had met each other and little was known of their comparative strength. On the face of things it appeared that Notre Dame, state champions of 1915, would again carry off first honors.

Comparison of points scored against Northwestern University showed the two state schools, Indiana and Purdue about on an equal. However, Purdue was conceded more stars and in a large meet the individual stars picking off a few points here and there count for more than a well balanced team. Indiana was believed to have a better balanced team than Purdue but on dope was selected for third place with Notre Dame and Purdue fighting for first.

The three large schools, however, were not considering the claims of DePauw and Wabash lightly. Captain Myers of the Methodists was conceded the individual championship and should he take three firsts in the I. C. A. L. meet last Saturday DePauw might slip into one of the three first places. In Sweet, star sprinter, Wabash is spinning her hopes. Sweet looked good for the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes. Bergman of Notre Dame who was recovered from a recent injury will give the Presbyterian runner good competition.

Earlham and Franklin were expected to gather in a few points but not to effect the final result.

Sharing interest with the big college meet was the district meet of the Indiana High School athletic association which was run off as curtain raiser for the intercollegiate. The high school meet was scheduled for Frankfort but was called off an account of rain. Lafayette, Frankfort, Noblesville, Logansport, Lebanon, and Crawfordsville are entered.

PEOPLE'S SAYSO.

Memories of Seymour in its Youth

The Centennial is bringing out memories, so I thought I would try and see how many things, I can remember. I came to Seymour, July 3rd 1856, found a small village of 200. The houses were mostly small frame, built on the high ground. The Presbyterian church building was on the corner where the First National Bank now stands. It was completed and dedicated, Nov. 7th 1856, Rev. L. R. Booth was the first pastor. All denominations used the building. The school was taught in a frame (2 stories) on the corner of 5th and Ewing. It was used for preaching before the Presbyterian church was finished. It was burned New Year's eve, 1859. Another of brick had been built between 5th and 6th. The first school that was taught in the new building, was taught by James Rankin, with two lady assistants. The first public school in the county was taught that winter, 1859 and 1860, 12 weeks of free and 5 months that was paid for by the patrons.

The hotels were kept by Thos. McCollum and Joe Newby. The Jonas House was being built and was opened to the public that fall. The merchants were, T. L. Ewing, Wm. Edwards and the Kling Bros. Dick Duhine was the only grocer, a Mr. Rich, the only butcher. Story and Johnson had a blacksmith shop on Second St., near where Teckemyers grocery is. Stephen Adams had a saw mill on the branch that then ran through the town on 3rd St. The business was all on the R. R.'s. The J. M. & L., now the Pennsylvania was running through, but the O. & M. now the B. & O. was not complete, trains all stopped in Seymour. The road was completed and trains ran through that winter. The formal opening was in June 1857. The people I knew when I first came to Seymour, have nearly all crossed over.

J. P. Ahl, who raises some of the finest strawberries in this vicinity, presented the Republican with a box of berries uniformly large and well flavored, Friday evening.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO BE HELD JUNE 4 (Continued from first page)

their respective halls at 2 o'clock on Sunday, June 4, and at 2:30 o'clock will assemble at the intersection of Chestnut and Second streets to form in line of march.

The newly organized Seymour Concert band will lead the procession. This will be the first public appearance of the band in their new uniforms. The band will be composed of fifty pieces. Following the band the uniformed battalion will march four abreast. Directly behind the battalion will come the members of the five lodges, probably in the order of the date of their organization.

The procession will march east on Second street to Ewing then north on Ewing to Riverview cemetery. The address will be given in front of the mausoleum, as the committee thinks this place is the most advantageous for the large crowd of spectators that will be present. A short program may also be given before the address of the afternoon.

After the close of the Memorial address by the Rev. Mr. Smith, the various lodges will decorate the graves of their deceased members. Each order will do this in conformity with their own ritual. After a short rest at the cemetery the lodges will again form in line of march and return to the city.

The union Memorial service of the several participating fraternal orders was inaugurated several years ago and has always been well attended not only by the members of the order but by many residents. The committee in charge of the service is composed of an equal number of members from each order and the detailed arrangements will be made later.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

W. B. Gallemore, of the Seymour Ice Cream Co., has purchased the Ice Cream plant of Shook and Son, of Manilla, Indiana.

No. 11, westbound passenger train due here at 2 o'clock, was fifty-two minutes late today on account of a hot box.

Mrs. George Bennett, of R. R. 7, claims the honor of bringing the first home grown strawberries to the local market. Mrs. Bennett brought in thirteen gallons of fine berries Monday and ten gallons on Wednesday. The berries were unusually large and of fine flavor.

The students of the Park school organized a ball team some time ago and Friday afternoon met "The Midgets," a team from the east part of the city. The game went for three innings and at that time "The Midgets" had covered the ground so thoroughly that the Park school team did not wish to finish the game. The score at the end of the third inning stood 13 to 1 in favor of The Midgets.

Eugene Rights, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rights, of this city, has been honored by being elected president of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity at Purdue University. Mr. Rights will have the added responsibility of building a new home for his fraternity, as the old home was burned last winter. The new house which is to be built by the alumni of the fraternity will cost about $12,000 and when completed will be one of the finest fraternity houses at Purdue University.

Periscopic Paragraphs.

Some Days and Others

Some days you sort o' wonder why The wind breathes a perpetual sigh, And gathering clouds shut out the sun Till day seems forever done. You wonder why the birds don't sing The same sweet songs they used to bring. While dreary dullness leaves its trace On every scene of blossoming grace.

And other days will romp and laugh While sunshine scatters gold like chaff, And in the world there seems no room For any thoughts of doubt or gloom. The joys for which we fondly wish—I guess they're pretty much like fish. Sometimes they seem to shun the spot And other times you catch a lot. —Phyllander Johnson, in Washington Star.

Dressing Up in Kentucky.

If Dress-Up Week in Trenton City, Todd County, Ky., was not a success, it was no fault of the Hon. Loving W. Gaines, mayor of the city. For on the eve of Dress-Up Week, the honorable mayor blew a blast upon his horn to shake its people out of their old clothes and into new ones. He appealed to every aesthetic sense and the awakening of an aesthetic sense inevitable leads to new draperies. In the wide sweep of his appeal to that sense, he let no element escape, according to a report in the St. Louis Globe Democrat. Here is the proclamation:

"Set your flowers on the front porch, decorate your show windows, business men; turn loose the children in the lawn, shake hands with yourself and neighbors, and wear a smile all the day. It's the season of sunshine and showers, buds and blossoms, sentiment and salsify, love and lettuce, Cupid and catnip, poetry and pimples, daffodils and dimples, the time when the winged songsters of nature vie the fabled and a weird goddesses of space in keeping up the music of the spheres, while April's gentle zephyrs waft the musical echoes over forest, hill, and vale, all to the one sweet chorus, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

Eloquence is not dead yet. Imagery has not lost its power. Poetry is so far from being dead, it is not even sleeping. In Trenton City, Ky., the muse sits up o' nights because of a mayor knowing how to woo her. If Hon. Loving Gaines was in congress, the circulation of the Congressional record ought to pick up considerably.

With reference to the new B. & O. S-W., ball team we hope they won't overdo the Safety First idea, on the diamond, anyway.

How long, we wonder, will we have to wait for this Waite case to end? You can always depend on New York to furnish some such feast of reading every few months.

Now that our major league ball team is lost to us, we might organize a croquet team and arrange a series with Shelbyville.

Mr. Gerard must be having a real vacation, not having to tramp to and from the foreign affairs office with notes.

Detective Bob Owens is going to leave Seymour to get along the best we can without the services of himself and his trusty dogs. If the Amalgamated Association of Crooks hears of this, we fear a great wave of crime will sweep over our fair city.

What's Become of—

The Park Coliseum?
The New Electric Co.?
That New Hotel?

And also the Y. M. C. A. building, the Union depot, and a few other much needed improvements, reforms, etc.

As a weak end paragraph, you probably noticed that one of the best things about the cooking school was that the write ups of it crowded out this column on several occasions.

Some men take to their summer duds by degrees, while others jump into a straw hat, palm beach suit and sport shirt all at once, the first time the thermometer goes above 90.

Suggestion to June Magazines: Why not print a picture of a June bride on the cover page?

The trials and difficulties of high school life all overcome, the graduates will now proceed to the comparatively easy task of making the world sit up and take notice of them.

Joy thought for the day. Next week has a holiday.

TROOP WITHDRAWAL IS NOT TO BE DISCUSSED

General Pershing Gets This Instruction
From General Funston,
It is Stated.

By United Press.
Washington, May 27—General Funston has instructed General Pershing not to discuss the question of withdrawal of American forces from Mexico in the coming conference with Carranza general, Gaverio at Nampiquipa, it was learned today. Pershing was directed to confine the talk to co-operation between American and Mexican forces and not to go outside of his military area in meeting Gaverio.

Pershing in reporting the request for a conference to Funston said he desired Gaverio to come to headquarters where he believed he could convince the Mexican general that with actual co-operation between forces they could stamp out the bandits in Northern Mexico.

ANNA BELLE'S Decoration Day Entertainment

Dear Friends:—For Decoration Day this year we gave a March of Nations tableau and I'm sure you would have enjoyed it. All of us did and the money we collected went half to the Old Soldiers' Home and half to our SEWING SOCIETY. We took in $20, so of course, $10 went into our treasury to help poor girls and boys through the summer months. Each of us was dressed to represent a certain nation.

Every day the postman brings me a great bunch of letters telling of the great success my friends are having in SEWING SOCIETY work. These good reports make me very happy and I'm sure if we continue to progress as fast as we have in the past nothing can keep us from growing into the greatest band of good girls and boys in the world. If you haven't sent for your Certificate of Membership now is the time to do so. Just address me care this paper, enclose a two-cent stamp for postage and I'll be glad to send you one. Write as often as you can to your loving,

Anna Belle

MAKE A SAILBOAT CROSS THE "POND"

CUT OUT THE SAILBOATS SHOWN BELOW, THEN PLACE ONE OF THEM ON EITHER SIDE OF THE POND AND TRY TO MOVE IT TO THE OPPOSITE SIDE OF THE POND—THIS IS A DANDY PUZZLE THAT SHOULD INTEREST ALL GOOD BOYS AND GIRLS—THIS LOOKS VERY EASY BUT REMEMBER YOU MUST NOT TOUCH A WAVE OR ROCK.
